COME ONE, COME ALL TO A TALENT SHOW OF PREHISTORIC PROPORTIONS!

The annual talent show is coming up at Roxy and Dexter's school. Roxy and all the other dinosaurs have brilliant talents to show off, from hula-hooping to roller-skating.

But Dexter the Dinocorn doesn't feel like he has any talents.

With a little help from Roxy, he learns that being a good friend and listener is actually the most important talent of all.

Eva Chen is a first-generation Chinese American who grew up in New York City. Previously the editor in chief of Lucky, she has also written for Elle, Vogue, Teen Vogue, Vogue China, The New York Times, and The Wall Street Journal. She is currently the head of fashion partnerships at Instagram, where she is guilty of the occasional duck-face selfie. Chen lives in New York City with her husband and two children.

Matthew Rivera earned his bachelor's degree in fine arts from the University of Arizona. After many years of being an art director for agencies, corporations, and toymakers, Matthew now writes and illustrates stories for children.
